

Fincas of Majorca

The perfect island for a walking holiday

Majorca, away from the tourist hotspots, boasts a multitude of charming places waiting to be explored. Nestled in tranquil settings, one stylish 'Finca' (country house) follows another, many of which come complete with inviting swimming pools in their gardens.

Prepare to be captivated by a week filled with hiking adventures along enchanting routes, along secluded trails amidst marvelous natural landscapes. Stylish and cozy Finca-hotels promise rejuvenating nights, and their garden pools and serene corners offer a perfect escape from everyday life. In the evenings, savour the delights of typical Mallorquin cuisine in a comfortable atmosphere. This hiking tour beautifully showcases the island's diversity in the sun.

On one hand, you'll discover the sparsely populated north, offering bewitching coastal views and turquoise bays. On the other, the rugged "Serra de Tramuntana" might make you feel like you're in the Alps. The delightful village of Orient will enchant you with its apple, almond, and olive orchards, as well as grazing flocks of sheep. Throughout your journey, expect dreamlike panoramic views of the stunning west coast and the Tramuntana mountains until you reach the hiking paradise of Sóller.

Details about the 'Finca walking' holiday in Majorca

Experience the splendour of Majorca with its breathtaking vistas, the enchanting Orange Valley, and the picturesque mountain villages of the Serra de Tramuntana as you embark on a hiking adventure. After exploring the stages along the north and west coasts, unwind in idyllic villas with gardens and pools.

Majorca radiates a unique charm that you'll encounter in various locations. Whether it's on the La Victòria peninsula with its turquoise-blue bay of Coll Baix, in the fertile Orient Valley adorned with lush fruit vegetation, or in the artistic enclave of Deià, each place offers its own distinct allure.

The highlights of this walking tour at a glance:

- Coastal walks with a fascinating panorama: On the Penyal d'Honor you have the best view over the beautiful landscape of Mallorca
- Delicious oranges and olives: Be sure to try the delicious Mediterranean fruits from Sóller and the Orient Valley!
- Stay in secluded 'fincas' with a swimming pool: During your walking holiday you will stay very comfortable and at the same time stylish in fincas that are typical of the country

Interesting facts about the Finca walking holiday in Majorca

You will start in Pollença and make a detour to Alcúdia before returning to the Cuber Reservoir. The route continues through the sleepy villages of the Serra de Tramuntana and past the Coma Sema Estate. Enjoy the typical local cuisine of Mallorca and gather new strength for the next day. The walk continues through the Orient Valley. You will also pass the pilgrimage town of Castell d'Alaró. From the top of Penyal d'Honor, you have a beautiful view of the island.

The last phase of the walking holiday is reserved for the artist town of Deia. Finally, you will reach Sóller via the charming postal route and explore an old oil mill.

Route summary

We recommend good basic fitness for walking days of up to 5.5 hours. You will walk on good walking paths but on some stony sections, good walking shoes and surefootedness will be required. This is a hiking tour with numerous panoramic views of the tops of the Tramuntana mountains, seashore, sea, and green valleys.

Itinerary

DAY 1	Arrival in Pollença
Located at the foot of the Serra de Tramuntana, a typical Majorcan town, Pollença, awaits you. You can stroll through the narrow streets of the old town, drink a "Café con Leche" in the Plaza Mayor or walk the cypress-lined hills and enjoy the panoramic view.
DAY 2	Coastal walk along the Alcúdia peninsula	approx. 15 km 5.5 hours
One of Majorca's "walking classics" is a tour of the La Victòria peninsula, which lies between the Bay of Pollença and Alcúdia. The route leads along the shoreline and up to a dreamy peak. A winding path with panoramic views and the opportunity to swim in the turquoise-blue bay of Coll Baix takes you back through the rolling hills to Alcúdia.
